

Working in Germany: the official website for qualified professionals

Advisory services

Good advice can help contribute to the success of your business. Make sure to take advantage of get support from an expert.

In Germany, there are many public information centres that can help you set up your business. You general list of contact persons on the start-up portal.

The Authority Finder (Behördenwegweiser) will also tell you which information centres are av

You can also hire a private consulting firm to help you prepare and embark on your first entrepreneur German federal states provide grants towards the costs incurred for this kind of consultation. It is i place of residence and your company's registered office are in Germany. The start-up portal will te apply for this grant.

Please note: It is sensible to be well-prepared for the consultation. Do not be afraid to address bu: immediately; in Germany, people tend to prefer dealing with specific questions rather than excessi

Advisory services for entrepreneurs with a migratory background

Addresses of regional and national information centres, specifically for entrepreneurs with a migrai can be found on the start-up portal in the "Advisory Services and Addresses" (available in G section.

The Specialist Office for Migrant Economics of the IQ Network also provides information an abroad wanting to set up a business.

Support for female entrepreneurs

Women planning to set up a business will find information on funding and networking on the start-u female entrepreneurs.

Further training

As an entrepreneur, you will need business knowledge. Do you lack expertise in this area? Or you up on your knowledge? Then we advise you to consider further training. In seminars you can learn bookkeeping and accounting, for example.

Many different organisations offer further training courses throughout Germany. Above all, the Cham and Commerce (IHK) and the Chambers of Crafts (HWK) offer seminars on start-up busi area.

A large selection of courses can also be found on the KURSNET website. The adult education (Volkshochschulen) are also good places to start.

Getting help after the initial start

Even after setting up your business, there are many opportunities for consultation. An expert can h your business processes and improve your business management planning. An initial overview of available services can be found on the Business Portal of the Federal Ministry for Economic / Action (Bundesministerium für Wirtschaft und Klimaschutz – BMWi).

The public-sector banking group KfW also offers numerous programmes to support young er

Information for investors and companies planning to enter the German market

Germany offers great prospects for companies that operate on an international level and are plann Germany by setting up a subsidiary or branch office. You can find detailed information and support Trade & Invest website.

(mailto:? subject=Advisory%20services&body=http: it-

Information on the web germany.com%2Fen%2Fworking-

BMW i Authority Finder germany%2Fsetting-

The Authority Finder will guide you to the right local public authorities and agencies for your requir

up-business%2Fpreparationconsultation%2Fadvisoryservices)
BMW Overview no. 58 - Where can I find a suitable German course?
Overview over the most important criteria for choosing a German course

IXPOS – The German Business Portal

Information about entering the German market

BMW - Gründer Plattform

Information about founding a startup

<https://www.make-it-in-germany.com/en/working-in-germany/setting-up-business/preparation-consultation/advisory-services>

09.03.2022, 17:46